DESCRIPTIVE LIST OF

LILACS

GROWN BY

K O S T E R & C O .

BRIDGETON, N. J.

THE following list contains some of the very best older varieties and some of the finest newer varieties recently introduced. Many of them are only to be found in private collections.

The varieties marked * belong to the "Early Lilacs," a cross between an early flowering Lilac and Syringa Giraldi; this latter Lilac has been recently introduced from China, and is remarkable for its flowering a week or two before the other sorts. This cross originated a new race of tall growing Lilacs, which expand their flowers before those now known.

Our Lilacs are budded or grafted very low on Privet; after transplanting such Lilacs and placing the union 4 to 5 inches below the surface of the ground they will quickly get on their own roots.

If the Privet stock should sucker, anybody can readily detect the sucker and remove it.

Grafting or budding on Lilacs is highly undesirable because the Lilac stocks are sure to sucker freely.

A very interesting article about Lilacs appeared in the Florists' Exchange of September 22, 1923, by Mr. John Dunbar, Superintendent of Highland Park, Rochester, the great Lilac authority. Much of the above is taken from that article.
